

CPBI Ottawa Chapter Receives Appreciation Award

Each year, CPBI Ottawa Chapter organizes a Charity Golf Tournament, with proceeds going to the Royal Ottawa Foundation for Mental Health and Ottawa Salus.

The Royal Ottawa for Mental Health provides hospital equipment for capital projects, supports research, and contributes to the improvement of patient care now and for the future. Ottawa Salus Corporation provides permanent homes of healing, health, and hope for people living with serious mental illness. Each year Salus supports people in their individual journeys from homelessness, hospitalization, and isolation to places where they can experience stability, independence, and happiness.

The CPBI Ottawa Charity Golf Tournament is a great event for networking and socializing with colleagues. It is always rewarding on the day of the tournament to see the amazing support by our industry for these great causes. The charities have an opportunity to speak about their work and what the funds raised will be used for.

Nancy Stanton, Royal Ottawa Foundation,
Wendi Stimson, Theresa O'Connor, Stephanie and Luke Richardson.

In June of this year, CPBI Ottawa was recognized at the Royal Ottawa appreciation ceremony for their contribution in supporting mental health initiatives. Wendi Stimson and Theresa O'Connor accepted the award on behalf of CPBI Ottawa Chapter.