CANADIAN PENSION & BENEFITS INSTITUTE

Simon Nelson

Actuary, Eckler Ltd.

Simon Nelson is a consulting actuary with Eckler Ltd. He has over 15 years of experience consulting to plan sponsors on a wide array of complex pension issues, including regulatory matters, restructuring activities, union negotiations, plan design projects, funding and accounting issues. Part of Simon's role is a focus on the management of pension plan financial risks through the development, assessment and implementation of strategies such as pension liability settlements, and unique funding strategies. Prior to joining Eckler Ltd. in 2013, Simon worked for 13 years at another large consulting firm. Simon's clients have included a broad array of plan sponsors including large corporations, public sector organizations, multi-employer pension plans and not-for-profit organizations.

Simon is the current vice-chair of the CIA's Committee on Pension Plan Financial Reporting. He is a Fellow of both the Canadian Institute of Actuaries (FCIA) and Society of Actuaries (FSA), and holds an H.B.Sc. in Mathematical Statistics and Probability from the University of Toronto.
